

The City of Middleton Ad Hoc Sustainability Committee Presents:

MARCH

Monthly Sustainability Seminar

Sustainable Food: A Panel Discussion by local food experts

Are you interested in becoming a 'locavore?' Have you read Michael Pollan's books and want to hear more about buying food that is sustainably grown and healthy? Or are you just in general interested in hearing about local food options in Dane County?

If so, this talk is for you!

Gerald Campbell from the Dane County Food Council, Bartlett Durand from Otter Creek Organic Farm and Black Earth Meats, and Mike Noltnerwys from Primrose Community Farm in Middleton, will be giving a free panel discussion on sustainable food. Angie Carey will also be on hand to give an update on Middleton's first community garden planning effort.

You don't want to miss this one!

Thursday, March 5, 6:30pm

Archer Room, Middleton Public Library

Free, all are welcome. We value your input and participation.
(Take the stairs or the elevator from the main lobby).

*Monthly Sustainability Seminars are held on the first Thursday of each month at 6:30pm at the Archer Room. This is the seventh seminar in the series.

For more information regarding this or future seminars, to suggest potential seminar topics, or if you would like to be added to the email distribution list to hear about future seminars, please contact Abby Attoun, Associate Planner, at (608)827-1043 or aattoun@ci.middleton.wi.us.
